MSP Seminars on Patents and Trademarks

We live IP

The Covid 19 pandemic has slowed many companies in their business development and marketing of their products and services. Now, with the end of governmental restrictions on the horizon, is a good time to sharpen your strategic focus and strengthen your company's innovation. Protecting your intellectual property is crucial in this regard.

Müller Schupfner & Partner offer a variety of seminars on current topics in intellectual property law. The presentations are each scheduled for one hour and can be booked in presence at your company or as an online format. There are no costs for you.
